PPXXI LAUNCHES SPONSORSHIP PROGRAM FOR LAKE BUENA VISTA CONFERENCE

Organizers of the PPXXI Conference and Exhibition have announced their sponsorship opportunities for their upcoming event in Lake Buena Vista (near Orlando) on 25 – 27 September 2023. PPXXI Lake Buena Vista conference provides a platform for world networking with key personnel from the businesses and technologies in plastic pipe systems. Also confirmed is that the role and involvement of sponsors have increased markedly over the last ten years.

Sarah Patterson, PPXXI Organizing Committee Chair, is convinced that association through their event sponsorship not only creates positive brand feelings and awareness but also forges long term business relationships. "Since 1972, our conference and exhibition have continued to foster global networking opportunities between manufacturers of resins, plastic pipes and fittings, equipment and also research institutions, academia and utility companies," Patterson remarks. "Now more than ever, our industry needs to stay connected to continue driving and improving the quality of life for so many around the world."

Sponsorship packages range from coffee break sponsors through to corporate sponsors. Benefits span branding, technical highlights, free registrations/exhibition booth and engagement possibilities with attendees. A complete guide to the sponsorship program and respective benefits is posted via:

Early sponsors already on board include The European Plastic Pipe and Fittings Association (TEPPFA) as the Gala Dinner sponsor; Tecnomatic as the DAY1 lunch sponsor; PE100+ Association and PVC4Pipes as the iPad sponsors.

"Our sponsors value the reputation, reach and resonance that they derive for their involvement," says Patterson. "And we value their support and association. On behalf of the organizing committee, I want to thank our first set of sponsors where all four are well recognized for their contributions to the plastics pipe industry:"

- Gala Dinner: The European Plastic Pipe and Fittings Association (TEPPFA)
- iPad Corner: PE100+ Association, PVC4Pipes
- Lunch sponsor (first day): Tecnomatic

Organized by the Plastic Pipe Conference Association (PPCA) and held every two years, the Conference and Exhibition are hosted by PPCA members: PE 100+ Association, the Plastics Pipe Institute, Inc. (PPI) and The European Plastic Pipes and Fittings Association (TEPPFA).
